

THEY WANT TO COME

The Walter A. Wood Branch House Want a Location.

A DEEP HOLE IN THE GROUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Reports to Noble.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Secretary Noble's Ratings.

OKLAHOMA, O. T., Sept. 23.—The new country which was opened yesterday at noon, continues attracting everybody's attention. Of the 180 filings received, the land office yesterday between the hours of 12 and 4, fifty-three were rejected by the register and receiver. Some of these were rejected on some technical defect, but the majority were genuine, because the attempted filing covered land that was allotted to the Indians. Not a little trouble will ensue, and a great many deserting people will leave the country.

Secretary Noble's ruling is to the effect that every person is a "bono" who has been upon the new land at any time since March 2, 1891, when the memorable opening of two years ago took place.

The military authorities repeatedly advised the people in waiting to enter from the Pottawatomie reservation, where the soldiers, according to Secretary Noble, are sooners.

Another class of persons against whom this ruling will operate great hardship, are the boomers, who have been camped for months along the line, waiting for the country to open. They have undergone many privations, and many of them would be glad to get the abundance of game in the Pottawatomie country and the kindness of the Indians, and all for the sake of a home-land.

Township, the designated county seat of the south county, is surrounded by a crowd of at least 10,000 people. The town site reserved includes 320 acres, which will make about 200 lots to be gobbled up in the twinkling of an eye.

The surveyors finished their labors to-night, and to-morrow at noon Governor Steele will present it to the people. The people, who will be waiting for the opening of the country, will be waiting for the opening of the country.

The weathering preacher evangelist is here, and holds services morning, noon and night, but the people here do not seem to care so much for him as they do for the substantial benefits of a home-land.

The number of people who are waiting for the opening of the country, is growing. There is scarcely a piece of ground twenty-five feet square in the immediate vicinity of Tecumseh that is not occupied by a lay-out of some kind, either faro, craps or roulette. The people here are waiting for the opening of the country.

The only accident of any serious importance so far occurred to-day. H. H. Howard, of the firm of Johnson & Howard, the most prominent firm of criminal lawyers in the Territory, had his horse shot from under him while trying to enter the coveted town site.

He was arrested, along with a half a dozen others, and placed under a military guard. The stories told about the affair are conflicting. One is to the effect that the lawyer made a speech to the waiting multitude, and advised them that the withholding of the townsite from settlement was entirely illegal.

and that the people had a perfect right to take the townsite, and to show that he meant what he said, he suddenly put spurs to his horse, a large and conspicuous animal, and in a second he had crossed over to the forbidden grounds. The soldier on guard called out to the daring lawyer to halt, but he paid no attention to the command. Then Capt. Jack Hays saw that "Shoot the fellow's horse." In an instant a dozen rifles were hoisted. The white horse staggered several feet further and fell dead, the lawyer being violently thrown a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, but escaped uninjured, save some few trifling bruises.

A youth named Renfro, aged seventeen years, had his leg broken by his wagon turning over, and an Oklahoma city policeman, Hopkins by name, had his arm broken.

As soon as he declares the town site of Tecumseh ready for settlement, Governor Steele will proceed to Chandler, the county seat of north county, where the same formality will be repeated.

The sufferings at the latter place are reported as intense. It is estimated that over three thousand negroes rushed into the north county. The great majority of them are the poor and shiftless class who have been permitted to leave the cotton fields of the South through the glittering representations of sly-tongued agents, who pictured the new country to the ignorant darkey as a land where claims and town lots were being exchanged for fortunes every day.

He now knows different, but this does not satisfy the gnawings of an empty stomach. A great many of them are now becoming fugitives upon the county through the winter.

Why? Why not come at once and see for yourself the open land and the function of the cotton field? If you do not come at once, you will be disappointed.

Why Leaves Change Color.

A botanist has thus explained in Forest and Stream why leaves change in color. "The green matter in the tissue of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the fall and the natural growth of the tree ceases, oxidation of the tissue takes place. Under certain conditions the green of the leaf changes to red; under different conditions it takes on a yellow or brown tint. This difference in color is due to the difference in combination of the original constituents of the green tissue and to the varying conditions of climate, exposure, soil, etc. A dry, cold climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm. This is the reason that our American autumns are so much more gorgeous than those of England. There are several things about leaves that even science cannot explain. For instance, why one tree grows side by side with another, and having the same exposure, should take on a brilliant red in the fall, and the other should turn yellow; or why one branch of a tree should be highly colored and the rest of the tree have only a yellow tint, are questions that are as impossible to answer as why one member of a family should be perfectly healthy and another sickly."

Windfall Buds.

the only good bud you can buy. It is strictly the best. Ask those who use them. Sold only at J. H. ELLISON & CO. Sold on easy terms.

THEY WANT TO COME

The Walter A. Wood Branch House Want a Location.

A DEEP HOLE IN THE GROUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Reports to Noble.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Secretary Noble's Ratings.

OKLAHOMA, O. T., Sept. 23.—The new country which was opened yesterday at noon, continues attracting everybody's attention. Of the 180 filings received, the land office yesterday between the hours of 12 and 4, fifty-three were rejected by the register and receiver. Some of these were rejected on some technical defect, but the majority were genuine, because the attempted filing covered land that was allotted to the Indians. Not a little trouble will ensue, and a great many deserting people will leave the country.

Secretary Noble's ruling is to the effect that every person is a "bono" who has been upon the new land at any time since March 2, 1891, when the memorable opening of two years ago took place.

The military authorities repeatedly advised the people in waiting to enter from the Pottawatomie reservation, where the soldiers, according to Secretary Noble, are sooners.

Another class of persons against whom this ruling will operate great hardship, are the boomers, who have been camped for months along the line, waiting for the country to open. They have undergone many privations, and many of them would be glad to get the abundance of game in the Pottawatomie country and the kindness of the Indians, and all for the sake of a home-land.

Township, the designated county seat of the south county, is surrounded by a crowd of at least 10,000 people. The town site reserved includes 320 acres, which will make about 200 lots to be gobbled up in the twinkling of an eye.

The surveyors finished their labors to-night, and to-morrow at noon Governor Steele will present it to the people. The people, who will be waiting for the opening of the country, will be waiting for the opening of the country.

The weathering preacher evangelist is here, and holds services morning, noon and night, but the people here do not seem to care so much for him as they do for the substantial benefits of a home-land.

The number of people who are waiting for the opening of the country, is growing. There is scarcely a piece of ground twenty-five feet square in the immediate vicinity of Tecumseh that is not occupied by a lay-out of some kind, either faro, craps or roulette. The people here are waiting for the opening of the country.

The only accident of any serious importance so far occurred to-day. H. H. Howard, of the firm of Johnson & Howard, the most prominent firm of criminal lawyers in the Territory, had his horse shot from under him while trying to enter the coveted town site.

He was arrested, along with a half a dozen others, and placed under a military guard. The stories told about the affair are conflicting. One is to the effect that the lawyer made a speech to the waiting multitude, and advised them that the withholding of the townsite from settlement was entirely illegal.

and that the people had a perfect right to take the townsite, and to show that he meant what he said, he suddenly put spurs to his horse, a large and conspicuous animal, and in a second he had crossed over to the forbidden grounds. The soldier on guard called out to the daring lawyer to halt, but he paid no attention to the command. Then Capt. Jack Hays saw that "Shoot the fellow's horse." In an instant a dozen rifles were hoisted. The white horse staggered several feet further and fell dead, the lawyer being violently thrown a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, but escaped uninjured, save some few trifling bruises.

A youth named Renfro, aged seventeen years, had his leg broken by his wagon turning over, and an Oklahoma city policeman, Hopkins by name, had his arm broken.

As soon as he declares the town site of Tecumseh ready for settlement, Governor Steele will proceed to Chandler, the county seat of north county, where the same formality will be repeated.

The sufferings at the latter place are reported as intense. It is estimated that over three thousand negroes rushed into the north county. The great majority of them are the poor and shiftless class who have been permitted to leave the cotton fields of the South through the glittering representations of sly-tongued agents, who pictured the new country to the ignorant darkey as a land where claims and town lots were being exchanged for fortunes every day.

He now knows different, but this does not satisfy the gnawings of an empty stomach. A great many of them are now becoming fugitives upon the county through the winter.

Why? Why not come at once and see for yourself the open land and the function of the cotton field? If you do not come at once, you will be disappointed.

Why Leaves Change Color.

A botanist has thus explained in Forest and Stream why leaves change in color. "The green matter in the tissue of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the fall and the natural growth of the tree ceases, oxidation of the tissue takes place. Under certain conditions the green of the leaf changes to red; under different conditions it takes on a yellow or brown tint. This difference in color is due to the difference in combination of the original constituents of the green tissue and to the varying conditions of climate, exposure, soil, etc. A dry, cold climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm. This is the reason that our American autumns are so much more gorgeous than those of England. There are several things about leaves that even science cannot explain. For instance, why one tree grows side by side with another, and having the same exposure, should take on a brilliant red in the fall, and the other should turn yellow; or why one branch of a tree should be highly colored and the rest of the tree have only a yellow tint, are questions that are as impossible to answer as why one member of a family should be perfectly healthy and another sickly."

Windfall Buds.

the only good bud you can buy. It is strictly the best. Ask those who use them. Sold only at J. H. ELLISON & CO. Sold on easy terms.

THEY WANT TO COME

The Walter A. Wood Branch House Want a Location.

A DEEP HOLE IN THE GROUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Reports to Noble.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Secretary Noble's Ratings.

OKLAHOMA, O. T., Sept. 23.—The new country which was opened yesterday at noon, continues attracting everybody's attention. Of the 180 filings received, the land office yesterday between the hours of 12 and 4, fifty-three were rejected by the register and receiver. Some of these were rejected on some technical defect, but the majority were genuine, because the attempted filing covered land that was allotted to the Indians. Not a little trouble will ensue, and a great many deserting people will leave the country.

Secretary Noble's ruling is to the effect that every person is a "bono" who has been upon the new land at any time since March 2, 1891, when the memorable opening of two years ago took place.

The military authorities repeatedly advised the people in waiting to enter from the Pottawatomie reservation, where the soldiers, according to Secretary Noble, are sooners.

Another class of persons against whom this ruling will operate great hardship, are the boomers, who have been camped for months along the line, waiting for the country to open. They have undergone many privations, and many of them would be glad to get the abundance of game in the Pottawatomie country and the kindness of the Indians, and all for the sake of a home-land.

Township, the designated county seat of the south county, is surrounded by a crowd of at least 10,000 people. The town site reserved includes 320 acres, which will make about 200 lots to be gobbled up in the twinkling of an eye.

The surveyors finished their labors to-night, and to-morrow at noon Governor Steele will present it to the people. The people, who will be waiting for the opening of the country, will be waiting for the opening of the country.

The weathering preacher evangelist is here, and holds services morning, noon and night, but the people here do not seem to care so much for him as they do for the substantial benefits of a home-land.

The number of people who are waiting for the opening of the country, is growing. There is scarcely a piece of ground twenty-five feet square in the immediate vicinity of Tecumseh that is not occupied by a lay-out of some kind, either faro, craps or roulette. The people here are waiting for the opening of the country.

The only accident of any serious importance so far occurred to-day. H. H. Howard, of the firm of Johnson & Howard, the most prominent firm of criminal lawyers in the Territory, had his horse shot from under him while trying to enter the coveted town site.

He was arrested, along with a half a dozen others, and placed under a military guard. The stories told about the affair are conflicting. One is to the effect that the lawyer made a speech to the waiting multitude, and advised them that the withholding of the townsite from settlement was entirely illegal.

and that the people had a perfect right to take the townsite, and to show that he meant what he said, he suddenly put spurs to his horse, a large and conspicuous animal, and in a second he had crossed over to the forbidden grounds. The soldier on guard called out to the daring lawyer to halt, but he paid no attention to the command. Then Capt. Jack Hays saw that "Shoot the fellow's horse." In an instant a dozen rifles were hoisted. The white horse staggered several feet further and fell dead, the lawyer being violently thrown a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, but escaped uninjured, save some few trifling bruises.

A youth named Renfro, aged seventeen years, had his leg broken by his wagon turning over, and an Oklahoma city policeman, Hopkins by name, had his arm broken.

As soon as he declares the town site of Tecumseh ready for settlement, Governor Steele will proceed to Chandler, the county seat of north county, where the same formality will be repeated.

The sufferings at the latter place are reported as intense. It is estimated that over three thousand negroes rushed into the north county. The great majority of them are the poor and shiftless class who have been permitted to leave the cotton fields of the South through the glittering representations of sly-tongued agents, who pictured the new country to the ignorant darkey as a land where claims and town lots were being exchanged for fortunes every day.

He now knows different, but this does not satisfy the gnawings of an empty stomach. A great many of them are now becoming fugitives upon the county through the winter.

Why? Why not come at once and see for yourself the open land and the function of the cotton field? If you do not come at once, you will be disappointed.

Why Leaves Change Color.

A botanist has thus explained in Forest and Stream why leaves change in color. "The green matter in the tissue of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the fall and the natural growth of the tree ceases, oxidation of the tissue takes place. Under certain conditions the green of the leaf changes to red; under different conditions it takes on a yellow or brown tint. This difference in color is due to the difference in combination of the original constituents of the green tissue and to the varying conditions of climate, exposure, soil, etc. A dry, cold climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm. This is the reason that our American autumns are so much more gorgeous than those of England. There are several things about leaves that even science cannot explain. For instance, why one tree grows side by side with another, and having the same exposure, should take on a brilliant red in the fall, and the other should turn yellow; or why one branch of a tree should be highly colored and the rest of the tree have only a yellow tint, are questions that are as impossible to answer as why one member of a family should be perfectly healthy and another sickly."

Windfall Buds.

the only good bud you can buy. It is strictly the best. Ask those who use them. Sold only at J. H. ELLISON & CO. Sold on easy terms.

THEY WANT TO COME

The Walter A. Wood Branch House Want a Location.

A DEEP HOLE IN THE GROUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Reports to Noble.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Secretary Noble received the following telegram from Col. S. C. Davis, special land inspector sent by the secretary to act with Maj. A. E. Wright in superintending the opening of the new purchases in Oklahoma.

"Pottawatomie reservation opening completed. Without trouble. Township thoroughly guarded against invasion. Survey of county seat will not be completed before noon to-morrow.

"P. M., Wednesday, 23.—About 3000 people surrounded the county seat. The disturbance was quiet. There has been no trouble since the county seat was opened. That township will be opened to-morrow. Troops are guarding the site to prevent intrusion.

Secretary Noble's Ratings.

OKLAHOMA, O. T., Sept. 23.—The new country which was opened yesterday at noon, continues attracting everybody's attention. Of the 180 filings received, the land office yesterday between the hours of 12 and 4, fifty-three were rejected by the register and receiver. Some of these were rejected on some technical defect, but the majority were genuine, because the attempted filing covered land that was allotted to the Indians. Not a little trouble will ensue, and a great many deserting people will leave the country.

Secretary Noble's ruling is to the effect that every person is a "bono" who has been upon the new land at any time since March 2, 1891, when the memorable opening of two years ago took place.

The military authorities repeatedly advised the people in waiting to enter from the Pottawatomie reservation, where the soldiers, according to Secretary Noble, are sooners.

Another class of persons against whom this ruling will operate great hardship, are the boomers, who have been camped for months along the line, waiting for the country to open. They have undergone many privations, and many of them would be glad to get the abundance of game in the Pottawatomie country and the kindness of the Indians, and all for the sake of a home-land.

Township, the designated county seat of the south county, is surrounded by a crowd of at least 10,000 people. The town site reserved includes 320 acres, which will make about 200 lots to be gobbled up in the twinkling of an eye.

The surveyors finished their labors to-night, and to-morrow at noon Governor Steele will present it to the people. The people, who will be waiting for the opening of the country, will be waiting for the opening of the country.

The weathering preacher evangelist is here, and holds services morning, noon and night, but the people here do not seem to care so much for him as they do for the substantial benefits of a home-land.

The number of people who are waiting for the opening of the country, is growing. There is scarcely a piece of ground twenty-five feet square in the immediate vicinity of Tecumseh that is not occupied by a lay-out of some kind, either faro, craps or roulette. The people here are waiting for the opening of the country.

The only accident of any serious importance so far occurred to-day. H. H. Howard, of the firm of Johnson & Howard, the most prominent firm of criminal lawyers in the Territory, had his horse shot from under him while trying to enter the coveted town site.

He was arrested, along with a half a dozen others, and placed under a military guard. The stories told about the affair are conflicting. One is to the effect that the lawyer made a speech to the waiting multitude, and advised them that the withholding of the townsite from settlement was entirely illegal.

and that the people had a perfect right to take the townsite, and to show that he meant what he said, he suddenly put spurs to his horse, a large and conspicuous animal, and in a second he had crossed over to the forbidden grounds. The soldier on guard called out to the daring lawyer to halt, but he paid no attention to the command. Then Capt. Jack Hays saw that "Shoot the fellow's horse." In an instant a dozen rifles were hoisted. The white horse staggered several feet further and fell dead, the lawyer being violently thrown a distance of fifteen or twenty feet, but escaped uninjured, save some few trifling bruises.

A youth named Renfro, aged seventeen years, had his leg broken by his wagon turning over, and an Oklahoma city policeman, Hopkins by name, had his arm broken.

As soon as he declares the town site of Tecumseh ready for settlement, Governor Steele will proceed to Chandler, the county seat of north county, where the same formality will be repeated.

The sufferings at the latter place are reported as intense. It is estimated that over three thousand negroes rushed into the north county. The great majority of them are the poor and shiftless class who have been permitted to leave the cotton fields of the South through the glittering representations of sly-tongued agents, who pictured the new country to the ignorant darkey as a land where claims and town lots were being exchanged for fortunes every day.

He now knows different, but this does not satisfy the gnawings of an empty stomach. A great many of them are now becoming fugitives upon the county through the winter.

Why? Why not come at once and see for yourself the open land and the function of the cotton field? If you do not come at once, you will be disappointed.

Why Leaves Change Color.

A botanist has thus explained in Forest and Stream why leaves change in color. "The green matter in the tissue of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the fall and the natural growth of the tree ceases, oxidation of the tissue takes place. Under certain conditions the green of the leaf changes to red; under different conditions it takes on a yellow or brown tint. This difference in color is due to the difference in combination of the original constituents of the green tissue and to the varying conditions of climate, exposure, soil, etc. A dry, cold climate produces more brilliant foliage than one that is damp and warm. This is the reason that our American autumns are so much more gorgeous than those of England. There are several things about leaves that even science cannot explain. For instance, why one tree grows side by side with another, and having the same exposure, should take on a brilliant red in the fall, and the other should turn yellow; or why one branch of a tree should be highly colored and the rest of the tree have only a yellow tint, are questions that are as impossible to answer as why one member of a family should be perfectly healthy and another sickly."

Windfall Buds.

the only good bud you can buy. It is strictly the best. Ask those who use them. Sold only at J. H. ELLISON & CO. Sold on easy terms.

THE MOORE IRON WORKS CO.,

Fort Worth, Texas.

City Office, 504 Main Street, Fort Worth, Texas.

Manufacture House Fronts, Railings, Ventilators, Sash Weights, Artesian Well Drilling Machines, Well Drills, Drill Bars, Rope Sockets, Jaws, Fishing Tools, Engine and Car Casting, Repair and Rebuild Engines, Boilers, Pumps, etc. and do a general Foundry and Machine business. Estimates given on all kinds of machinery. Architectural Iron Work of all kinds a specialty.

Mention the Fort Worth Gazette.

Call and see the latest improved styles, with steel frames and steel wheels. These drills are unsurpassed by any on the market, and have been in the front rank for the past twenty-five years. Circumstances and prices mailed on application.

W. A. HUFFMAN IMPLEMENT COMPANY,

Fort Worth, Texas.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

Waco and Dallas, Texas. Facilities equal to any on the coast. Faculty unrivaled in the West. Graduates of the University of Texas, and of the University of California, and of the University of Michigan, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University of Florida, and of the University of Alabama, and of the University of Mississippi, and of the University of Louisiana, and of the University of Arkansas, and of the University of Missouri, and of the University of Iowa, and of the University of Wisconsin, and of the University of Illinois, and of the University of Pennsylvania, and of the University of Maryland, and of the University of Virginia, and of the University of North Carolina, and of the University of South Carolina, and of the University of Georgia, and of the University